An Exciting Itinerary-Packed Visit

Old Tucson will unveil two new shows. The live-action gunfights in the Town Square will contain interactive activity where guests choose who duels at High Noon. Lighting up the Grand Palace, the new and original theatrical performance, “The Ballad of Bonney Will,” tells the “truer than most” story of Billy the Kid.

In addition, the park presents the hilarious Annie Can Can-Can show, Zamloch the Great’s mesmerizing magic show, and the Cowpoke Campfire Storytime.

Be sure to be on the lookout for an encounter with the illusive James Gang as they rob one of the park’s treasured locations. Participating guests will take part in the search for the missing gold at the Iron Door Gold Mine.

Experience our historical tours, petting zoo, attractions, and rides for more activities.

Dining, Retail, and Photography

There are several dining options inside the Old Tucson, from light snacks and beverages to filling meals. Big Jakes BBQ serves the famous smoked brisket and pulled pork. For delicious tacos and quesadillas, head to Rosa’s, and the Cowboy Cafe will treat burger cravings with all the fixings. Check out Phoebe’s homemade fudge, candied apples, and more for desserts.

Old Tucson merchandise will be available throughout the park, including Olsen’s and the Corner Store. To capture a memory that lasts a lifetime, visit the photography studio for a vintage portrait.
